PLAYING WITH DYNAMITE—Demolitions man Bill Osner of the Ottawa County Road Commission is shown (above) wiring together sticks of dynamite used Wednesday to blast out old pilings in Lake Macatawa where a new public launching site is being installed. The dynamite carried a strong 60 per cent nitroglycerine charge, as opposed to the usual 40 per cent. Then Osner was ready to row out to the pilings to drape his dynamite string around a piling. Dynamite explodes along the path of least resistance, Osner explained, and thus blasted off the old pilings which offered less resistance than the surrounding water.

THERE SHE BLOWS—A dull thundering, a great column of water, a small "earthquake," and another piling is removed. Osner made six trips to remove the six pilings from in front of the launching site, located at the foot of Park St. on the north shore, just across from the Montello Park docks. Osner is shown cranking the hand magneto which set off the underwater charges by means of a long detonating wire. Osner used 10 to 12 sticks in a string and about 40 pounds of dynamite for the whole job. Osner said the new public launching site should be ready for use next spring after further work by the township and county.

GOP Committee Backs Grysen; Vanderbeek Is Independent
Hank Stafseth of Grand Haven, chairman of the Ottawa County Republican committee, and Mrs. Bruce M. Raymond of Holland, committee vice-chairman, today pointed out that in the case of the sticker campaign of Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek in the Nov. 4 election that he is an independent candidate and not a Republican candidate as such.

Delegates to the County Republican Convention in Grand Haven shortly after the Aug. 5 primary, passed the usual resolutions endorsing successful nominees for the Nov. 4 election. This list included Bernard (Bud) Grysen who defeated the Republican incumbent by 84 votes in the Aug. 5 primary.

Mrs. Raymond said today that while the committee endorses successful nominees that the sheriff has a legal right to run as a write-in if he chooses. "No county committee has complete control over its candidates. If an unsuccessful candidate chooses to run after considering all factors, it's his right. We're not a dictator."

The move to get Vanderbeek to be a sticker candidate was started by a group of his friends, while he was on a vacation trip in Northern Michigan last month.

Fire Destroys Boathouse, Three Boats

Fire of undetermined origin early this morning destroyed a boathouse and three boats, causing an estimated $15,000 damage, at the Marigold Lodge at Waukazoo.

Destroyed in the fire, according to Albert Buursma, caretaker of the estate, was the 45-foot boathouse, a 27-foot cabin cruiser, a 16-foot runabout, a 14-foot aluminum boat with motor and a quantity of boating and water-skiing equipment.

Buursma said his wife saw what she thought was a "light" in the boathouse at 1:10 a.m. and then a few minutes later saw the entire structure in flames. Buursma said he believed the fire started on the cabin cruiser and spread when the gas tanks exploded.

The Park Township No. 2 Fire Department arrived on the scene about 1:30 a.m. and remained for nearly two hours. The situation was out of control when they arrived, Chief Herman Windemuller said, but his men kept the fire from spreading.

Buursma said the boats, owned by Egbert H. Gold, were fully covered by insurance. The boathouse, owned by Michel Thorjensky, was partially covered by insurance, he said.

Fortunately, Buursma said, a northwest wind blew the soaring flames out to the lake, which undoubtedly saved the buildings on the shore from destruction.

Vandalism at Farm

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Sheriff's officers are investigating a vandalism case at the Walter Jones farm in Olive township in which two cars were driven across his lawn, damaging a sprinkling system and a cultivator and also ran into his blueberry fields. One car became stuck and was still there when the owner rose at 7 a.m.

The Civic Center will be the scene of the "Fashion Fair" sponsored by the International Relations Club of Hope College on Wednesday, Sept. 24, at 8 p.m. Members have been working this summer making plans for a show that will appeal to all ages.

It has been the purpose of the club to help further world peace and understanding by raising money to bring foreign students to Hope's campus. At the time of the Hungarian crisis the IRC spearheaded a drive to enable five Hungarians to attend Hope. As a result of various IRC projects last year, an Austrian will become a Hope student this fall.

The purpose of the style show is to raise money for scholarships that will enable several Hope students to attend the Hope College Vienna Summer School in Vienna, Austria.

"Fashion Fair—Styles for Scholars" has been planned in conjunction with Jaarda's of Zeeland, Carleton Furriers, Don's Flowers and Kuyers Shoe Store. The latest fall and winter fashions will be shown for the young miss, the college co-ed, and older age groups. Models will be Hope students and faculty wives and children.

Since the students are to be sent to Hope's Vienna Summer School, an Austrian atmosphere will pervade the Civic Center. Viennese waltzes, Austrian displays, Austrian cookies and tea, and Austrian melodies played by Dr. Anthony Kookier of the Hope College Music Department will lend a truly international flavor to the style show.

School Board Sets Tuition Rates for '58

Tuition charges for non-resident students in Holland public schools this year will be $269.01, according to action taken by the Board of Education Monday night.

This is the maximum legal charge for tuition, according to state aid formulas on 1957 figures. This formula places tuition charges for secondary schools at $459.01, less the $190 provided by state aid. Tuition bills will be sent to each sending district within the next month.

The board also adopted a resolution admitting two ninth grade pupils, one from Maplewood and the other from Montello Park, living in areas exterior to the new city boundaries. The resolution admits the two to the E. E. Fell Junior High school for the 1958-59 school year upon payment of the non-resident high school tuition.

On the matter of admitting Lakeview ninth graders during this school year in case the district annexes to Holland city in the Nov. 4 election, the board authorized the secretary to inform the Lakeview Area Citizens committee that if the November election is successful the Holland district will accept, on a tuition basis, all high school students of that portion of the district annexing to Holland for a length of time reasonably sufficient to permit the district to transfer that portion of the district not within the new city boundaries to an adjoining district, and to combine that portion of the district within the new city boundaries with the school district of the city of Holland.

Since all present ninth graders were together as an eighth grade class in Lakeview school and are attending the ninth grade together, the board felt it was only fair that those students who now reside in that portion of the Lakeview district which will be exterior to the city of Holland be allowed to enter the ninth grade of the E. E. Fell Junior High school for the balance of the 1958-59 school year.

Announcement was made that at a special meeting of the board Aug. 25 it was decided to hire Arthur Read as building consultant on a part-time basis for the coming year. No major building construction is contemplated within this school year, but Read will be available on planning for needed facilities for an enlarged school district, probably a new junior high school as first consideration.

A letter was read from the Apple Ave. school board expressing appreciation to Arthur Read for his aid in landscaping its school grounds, the final note on a construction program which increased school facilities.

Read also presented a progress report on work the past month on completion of a new parking lot at the high school, awarding of a contract for fencing at Thomas Jefferson school, alterations in the basement area of Harrington school, completion of landscaping at Holland Hospital, and developments on the Fairbanks park building.

A contract for one new teacher was approved. Charles King of Rockingham, N. C., will teach string instruments in Junior high and in the grade schools, succeeding Carleton Kelch. King received a bachelor's degree in music at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago in 1954 and a master's degree in 1958.

The board granted a year's leave of absence to Alice Thrumm in order for her to take advantage of an academic fellowship at the University of Michigan where she will work towards a master's degree. Miss Thrumm taught German in the elementary schools the last few years.

Supt. Scott reported that Wilfred Clapp of the State Department of Public Instruction had consulted Holland on whether it would support new legislation to repeal certain special act districts in the state of Michigan. Scott said the local board would be happy to cooperate but that it had already by resolution in 1953 taken action to become a third class school district instead of a special act district and that its authority as a third class district has already been tested several times by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission on special school bonds.

Payroll, utilities and other claims for September were estimated at $124,599.58.

The finance committee reported the transfer of certain funds in the 1953 School Bond Debt Retirement Fund to provide cash for the call of $350,000 of the 1953 bonds. The transfer involved some funds from the general operating fund in order to collect the greatest amount of interest.

She carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweethearts roses with trailing ivy.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bridal attendants wore white length gowns of Mediterranean blue crystalite. The bridesmaids featured mock Sabrina necklines which tapered to v's in the back, and short sleeves. They wore matching blue headbands forming leaf patterns under short net veils.

Arraignments and Dispositions Fill Ottawa Circuit Court

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Several cases were processed in Circuit Court Monday with some persons appearing for arraignment and others for disposition.

Fred Bierman, 49, route 1, Grand Haven, who pleaded guilty Aug. 25 to felonious driving, was sentenced to pay $250 fine and costs. Judge Raymond L. Smith said this matter was one of the most difficult for any court to handle. Bierman was arrested as the result of an accident at Ferris and US-31 Aug. 13 in which three girls were injured, one seriously.

Robert Higgins, 22, Niles, who pleaded guilty Aug. 14 to daytime breaking and entering, was given probation three years, plus $100 costs and $32.61 restitution in a case in which he allegedly served as lookout for a break-in Aug. 2 at the Clayton Bakker home near Port Sheldon.

Judge Smith reprimanded Higgins for his appearance and ordered that he be clean shaven and fingerprinted before being released from Ottawa county jail. Higgins had acquired a goatee during his stay in the jail, and the judge said Higgins should have been trying to make a good and serious impression instead of appearing in court with a "silly goat."

Bonnie Masters, 19, Grand Haven, who pleaded guilty to forgery Aug. 14 was given probation for two years, must pay $50 costs and make restitution unless the injured party does not require it. Miss Masters allegedly forged a $25 check signing her mother's name.

Sandrene Elsie Hancock, 19, of Holland township and Carol Ilene Ebel, 19, West Olive, who pleaded guilty Aug. 14 to breaking and entering in the nighttime, were placed on probation two years and must pay $150 costs each including probation fees on a monthly basis. They also must make restitution of $6, each to pay half. Other conditions list no drinking and observe a midnight curfew. The alleged offense occurred Aug. 10 following a party in a shack and the girls raided a concession wagon across the road.

Geraldine Hill, 26, Nunica, mother of five children, who pleaded guilty Aug. 29 to issuing a check without an account, was put on probation for three years and must pay $3 a month oversight fees. She must make restitution of outstanding checks on a monthly basis.

She was charged specifically with a $20 check on Aug. 15 but since then outstanding checks have totaled $454.45 of which she has paid $75. She must make restitution of the checks on a monthly basis.

Lonnie Brown, 41, Muskegon Heights, who withheld a plea earlier on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, returned today and pleaded guilty to the charge. Bond was continued and he will return Sept. 29 for disposition. Brown was arrested by state police last Aug. 22 who checked him while making an improper turn at US-31 and M-104. A search revealed an automatic in a locked glove compartment.

John C. Barbosa, 29, Martin, who pleaded guilty Aug. 25 to unlawfully driving away an automobile, was sentenced to serve 2 to 5 years in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. The judge made no recommendation. The alleged offense occurred Aug. 2 when he took a car belonging to a Grand Rapids man.

THE SIZE OF THE EARTH

How big is this familiar old earth on which living things have been crawling around for some million years?

Even a fifth grader is glib with his answer. The earth, he will tell you, is about 8,000 miles in diameter, and the circumference is in the neighborhood of 25,000 miles.

But a widely distributed picture appeared in the newspapers the other day (in the Sentinel among others) that called for a revision of this answer. It suggested that the size of the earth is so much greater than the comparison between the imagined picture and the reality is almost grotesque.

In this picture the earth was represented by a circle about the size of a small dime, just large enough to show the outline of North and South America. Around that little circle there was a space that represented the atmosphere, a belt that was not very wide but wide enough to dwarf the tiny circle of the earth.

Around that there was a vast belt, so wide that it made both earth and its atmosphere look even smaller than the actual size of a dime. It represented, among other things, the menacing radio-active belt that space travelers will have to cross if they are ever to get really off the ground.

The whole circle as pictured in terms of the measurements that space scientists have established was so vast that what we have right along thought of as earth was hardly more than a grain of sand in comparison.

Yet all that is a part of the earth. Looked at from a neighboring planet like Venus or Saturn or Mars, the envelope around the earth is a part of the earth, just as we regard the rings around Saturn as a part of the planet Saturn. Looked at even from our earthview, the atmosphere that surround us is as much a part of the earth as the land and sea on which we live. We may not be conscious of it; but neither is the fish, in all probability, conscious of the water in which it swims, and it probably feels that the water is not a part of the earth. We swim in the earth's atmosphere, and we know, even though we may not be conscious of it, that the atmosphere for many miles up is a part of the earth we inhabit.

And now, because of space travel enthusiasms, we find that there is another layer around the land and water part and around the belt of atmosphere that makes the real earth many thousands of times larger than the geography books have been representing it as being.

We have come a long way since Old Testament days when the earth was thought of as a kind of inner plate a few hundred or at most a few thousand miles in circumference. Yet we also know that the earth, even with its vast belts of atmosphere and radio-active blanket and many other layers, is only a tiny atom in the Galaxy that we call the Milky Way.

Sunday School Lesson

Justice in Economic Life
Exodus 20: 15; Amos 8: 4-7;
James 5: 1-5; 1 Peter 4: 10-11

By C.P. Dame
(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.)

There are many problems and there is injustice in our economic life. Most of us are selfish by nature and we are inclined to want our share and sometimes a bit more than our share. And when we think some people get more than their share there is apt to be some jealousy and discontent. It is not an easy task to establish and maintain justice in our economic life.

I. Stealing is a sin. In our world there are those who have not and those who have. Some people, among them the Communists, say that everyone who has more than others got it by fraud. This is not so. Some people work hard, are thrifty and go places and get things, while others loaf, squander and grumble. The mother of Karl Marx is reputed to have said about her son, "If Karl had written less about capital, and had worked harder to get some of it the whole family would be better off." There are various ways of stealing. Robbers usually employ force. Manipulators resort to cleverness and scheming. Some employers steal from their employees and there are employees who rob their employers—sometimes taking time or things which do not belong to them. Theft hurts those who commit the deed and those from whom values are stolen.

II. The greedy always want more. The prophet Amos knew the conditions of his nation and of the northern kingdom very well. Some people in his time were terribly greedy. There were businessmen who could not wait for the new moon which was a religious festival to pass so that they might sell corn and there were rich farmers who could not wait for the sabbath to pass so that they might plant wheat. Some people lengthen the Saturday and shorten Sunday. Merchants who keep their places of business open on Sunday say they do it to accommodate the public but we all know that they are doing it for the sake of more profits. It is refreshing to see signs here and there, "Closed on Sundays." The merchants who close their places of business on the Lord's Day deserve our patronage. God has given us six days in which to work, shop, play, sell, buy, why not keep the other day as it ought to be kept?

In the days of Amos some people cheated their customers by using false weights. Customers are still getting cheated in various ways. All manner of frauds and tricks are still practiced to get money without work. And now we learn that the "Quiz Show" has fallen into devious ways and some of the prize winners were coached beforehand. God wants us to work for a living and to be honest in all our dealings. Those who exploit others for the sake of gain will some day meet the Judge of all the earth.

III. Gifts are bestowed upon us for our use. Every one has received some kind of gifts. These gifts should not be squandered or used selfishly but they should be dedicated to the service of God. The words, "that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever" deserve to be remembered. The Christian who uses his money and his ability to the glory of God is a good steward. All we have been loaned to us by God who is the real owner of all and the giver of everything we have.

Grand Haven Chest Budget At $62,500

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Goal for the tri-cities area Community Chest this year will be $62,500, an increase of about $3,000 over last year, according to James Scott, president of the Tri-Cities Community Chest.

Of the 13 participating agencies, only two received increased grants although six presented requests for additional funds. The Haven Foundation for Retarded Children received a $600 increase to compensate for $1,000 loss of income previously received annually from the Board of Supervisors. State auditors ruled that the county cannot legally contribute to the support of a foundation or school not under its direct control.

The Michigan United Fund received an increase of $300. A new agency known as the Citizens Mental Health Council of North Ottawa County will receive $2,000. Al Jacobson, Jr., and Jack Reichardt are co-chairmen this year.

Arraign Two For Safe Job

ALLEGAN (Special) — Two Allegan High School youths Tuesday were arraigned in Municipal Court on charges of breaking and entering in the nighttime after being traced by motor scooter tracks they left at the scene of their attempted safe-cracking.

Allegan County Undersheriff Bob Whitcomb said Gary Zerean and Larry Wesseling, both 17, admitted the attempt to burn open the walk-in vault at Allegan High School Saturday night with an acetylene torch taken from the school's workshop.

Whitcomb said the youths were arrested Monday after he checked the tires of motor scooters at the school against tire prints left at the scene Saturday night. The youths have also admitted several other break-ins in the area, he said. The youths gained entrance by using a screwdriver to pick the lock on the building. Whitcomb said, but were unsuccessful in their attempt to burn open the large vault, although they did a great deal of damage. The boys also tried to chisel a hole in the wall of the safe but failed.

Whitcomb reported there was a large amount of money in the safe from the recent sale of schoolbooks.

She was the guest of missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. James Paul, who are at the Central American Mission. Mr. Paul is the principal of the school system in Minas de Oro. This fall Miss Bos will appear at student groups and churches, reporting on her activities working with missionaries in Honduras.

The farmers grow corn, beans, rice, sugar cane, fruits and bananas.

Accompanying Miss Bos were 11 other Wheaton College students, who spent their time as hospital aides, ambulance drivers, pilots, teachers, and radio station operators. Time is no concern of the people. A half hour trip by air takes a good part of a day by land rover. Bus drivers stop anywhere, anywhere and stop to talk to friends along the way. A half day's trip by bus costs $2.50. Mountains are also barriers along the way. The capital city of Tegucigalpa is very modern and many American products can be purchased there.

This summer she travelled by airplane, British Land Rovers, canoe, and by mule back. Miss Bos spent much of her time, teaching Spanish, English and music in the girls' schools and aiding the missionaries in gospel meetings and various other work. The school children in Honduras have their school term from February to September. Many live in dormitories away from their families during the school year. The cost for a child in kindergarten is 50 cents per week, and high school students pay $10 per month. School teachers are 90 per cent national teachers and 10 per cent missionary teachers. School children are dressed in various color uniforms, which designate the school they come from. Study hours also ran into the evening from 6:30 to 8:30 when they study by aid of kerosene lamps, Miss Bos said.

Missionaries are transported by mission owned airplanes, and missionary pilots transport the sick to a hospital in Siguatepeque. The hospital is a modern one with missionary doctors and nurses. The missionaries have quite a bit of difficulty in getting the people into the hospitals, as many wait months after their ailments before coming into the hospital, and as a result, many die because of their superstitions against the hospital. Roads in Honduras are very poor, and the whole country has less than one thousand miles of roads, and people are transported by British Land Rovers. Many of the people travel barefoot through the countryside, Miss Bos said.

School children are dressed in various color uniforms, which designate the school they come from. Study hours also ran into the evening from 6:30 to 8:30 when they study by aid of kerosene lamps, Miss Bos said.

Missionaries are transported by mission owned airplanes, and missionary pilots transport the sick to a hospital in Siguatepeque. The hospital is a modern one with missionary doctors and nurses. The missionaries have quite a bit of difficulty in getting the people into the hospitals, as many wait months after their ailments before coming into the hospital, and as a result, many die because of their superstitions against the hospital. Roads in Honduras are very poor, and the whole country has less than one thousand miles of roads, and people are transported by British Land Rovers. Many of the people travel barefoot through the countryside, Miss Bos said.

Time is no concern of the people. A half hour trip by air takes a good part of a day by land rover. Bus drivers stop anywhere, anywhere and stop to talk to friends along the way. A half day's trip by bus costs $2.50. Mountains are also barriers along the way. The capital city of Tegucigalpa is very modern and many American products can be purchased there.

This summer she travelled by airplane, British Land Rovers, canoe, and by mule back. Miss Bos spent much of her time, teaching Spanish, English and music in the girls' schools and aiding the missionaries in gospel meetings and various other work. The school children in Honduras have their school term from February to September. Many live in dormitories away from their families during the school year. The cost for a child in kindergarten is 50 cents per week, and high school students pay $10 per month. School teachers are 90 per cent national teachers and 10 per cent missionary teachers. School children are dressed in various color uniforms, which designate the school they come from. Study hours also ran into the evening from 6:30 to 8:30 when they study by aid of kerosene lamps, Miss Bos said.

3,716 Are Enrolled in City Schools

Public System Has Boost of 34 Students in Overall Enrollment

A total of 3,716 students in Holland's public schools was reported by Supt. Walter W. Scott at a monthly meeting of the Board of Education Monday night in the E. E. Fell Junior High School.

This represents an increase of 34 over last year at this time. Official enrollments which determine enrollments for state aid and tuition matters are taken the fourth Friday in September.

Enrollment by schools follows: Washington, 354 including seventh grade; Van Raalte, 325; Jefferson, 444 including seventh grade and special education departments; Longfellow, 403; Lincoln, 384; total, 1,910. Total last year at this time was 1,839.

Junior High enrollment totals 503, compared with 755 last year. The ninth grade total was decreased appreciably because of admitting only those from the city and newly annexed districts. The Holland High school enrollment totals 1,303, compared with 1,156 last year.

Enrollment by grades follows: kindergarten, 267; first grade, 262; second grade, 223; third grade, 229; fourth grade, 215; fifth grade, 226; sixth grade, 242; seventh grade, 170; eighth grade, 154; ninth grade, 333; tenth grade, 476; 11th grade, 455; 12th grade, 372; special education, 72; total, 3,716.

Dale Shearer, assistant principal at Holland High School, presented a report on enrollment for Principal Jay W. Forman. The report revealed enrollment on Sept. 8 at 1,905 students (two more enrolled in the afternoon after figures were submitted to the superintendent's office). This includes 512 resident students and 793 non-resident students this year, bringing non-resident memberships to 60.7 per cent of the total membership this year. In this case, the newly annexed areas are listed as non-residents in that these sections are not yet a part of the Holland school district.

The high school is using all rooms in Holland High School, all but one room in the Junior High annex, about 15 class rooms in Junior High, five rooms in Third Church, Bosman's store, and all agricultural classes are being held in the Farm House. With 361 seats in the high school auditorium, there are approximately 2,500 students a day for study periods. Were they divided equally among the seven periods, there would be 357 students each period. Because of varied schedules, it is impossible to schedule study halls of equal size and some periods run as high as 425 students. Plans have been made to dismiss some students to their homes for certain hours but not more than one period a day. If a student's grades deteriorate if he is missing these study halls, he will be required to attend the study hall.

Principal Forman's report pointed out that the pupil-teacher ratio this year is close to 25 to 1, compared with 22-1 last year. He viewed this as a dangerous trend and hoped that some relief will come with the elimination of 10th grade non-resident students next year.

"The changes that have been made necessary by the increasing numbers of students are taxing our facilities to the limit. It is my opinion that the caliber of our education program is beginning to suffer. I dislike intensely informing students that there is not enough room in the study halls for them and that some of them will be allowed to go home."

When we place science classes in rooms without laboratory facilities, again our educational program suffers. The teachers and administration will do all in their power to maintain the high caliber of education that Holland High has stood for in the past, and the students have been very cooperative in our preliminary meetings. I have noticed a trend among students to a more serious attitude toward academic subjects. We will try to build on this," Forman wrote.

Afterwards Supt. Scott submitted for consideration some possible changes in certain extra-curricular programs which may be regarded as "sacred cows." In making best utilization of time on a crowded school year, he questioned such items as the high school magazine campaign, the necessity for the present type of slick yearbook and some of the frills which already have been curtailed to some degree. He said teachers no longer handle a school insurance program, and paid assemblies have almost all been written off because of the lack of accommodations.

There was some general agreement among board members that this was indeed a subject for serious study, although some members pointed out that some of these activities often provide meaningful experiences which should not all be wiped out.

The superintendent's bulletin this month pointed out that it would be well for teachers to give consideration to the matter of interruptions or otherwise disturbing the school day or any of the classes within the day. He said many interruptions can be avoided with better planning. Cooperative planning between teachers and building principals would do much to avoid time-wasting nuisances.

President Bernard Arendshorst

presided at the meeting which lasted close to 2 1/2 hours. Member Harry Frissel gave the invocation. All members were present.

Firemen Now Have a Duck

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Grand Haven firemen have a brand new piece of equipment — a snapshot duck that can run on land or water.

Uncle Sam built this bird for $10,000 for World War II but the Grand Haven fire department got it for $50 through Civil Defense.

Chief Henry Hoebeke along with Frank Vrablic and Lee Burnette of the department picked it up at Toledo, Ohio Wednesday. The six-wheel drive, 2 1/2-ton truck has a motor like new and travels 60 miles per hour on the highway. Chief Hoebeke believes the vehicle will have many uses such as fighting dock fires, life saving or just crossing a stream for emergencies.

Tires of the duck can be inflated or deflated by pulling a lever inside the vehicle which is equipped with an air compressor, water pump and has both a rudder and propeller for amphibious travel.

A Long Drive Every Day to Grand Haven

Twenty-three ninth graders of Lakeview district, west of Holland, are having long daily bus rides to attend school in Grand Haven Junior High School.

Bus Driver Edwin Looman who operates a Lake Shore bus leaves at 6:45 a.m. daily on the new run and arrives at 7:45 a.m. at the Grand Haven Junior High School. Four prospective students are not riding. Two took up residence in Holland (by renting a room) and two others are attending a Grand Rapids Catholic School.

Lakeview could not send its students to Holland High School because of the new policy of accepting students from only those districts which annex to the city. Lakeview has scheduled an annexation election in November. There are 13 boys and 10 girls making the long trip daily.

The Holland group accounts for a small share in the increase of 212 more pupils in the Grand Haven public schools. Supt. Ralph Van Volkinburg lists a total of 2,993 or 212 more than the 2,781 who registered on opening day last year.

An altar banked with palms, ferns and bouquets of white gladioli and blue pompons with double candelabra was the setting for the wedding of Miss Norma Hopp and Jerome Barendse which took place Aug. 29 at 8 p.m. in Sixth Reformed Church. The Rev. Henry A. Mouw officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Hopp, 274 Lincoln Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Barendse, 561 Hiawatha Dr.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown designed and made by herself. The dress of Skinner's satin and chantilly lace, was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline with a V in the back and long pointed sleeves. Other features of the gown were the lace cummerbund and the full skirt with two lace and satin loose panels in the back. Her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion was attached to a pearl studded crown and she carried a white Bible with a white orchid and streamers. Her pearl necklace was a gift of the groom.

Miss Iris Hopp, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a coccilion blue dress of chiffon over taffeta, styled with a scoop neckline trimmed with sequins and a matching cummerbund. She wore a crown from which fell a chin veil, and carried blue and white carnations arranged in a colonial bouquet.

In identical attire were the bridesmaids, Miss Shirla Barendse, sister of the groom, and Miss Barbara Jurries.

Vander Ven-Wolfe Rites Read

Mrs. John Edward Vander Ven

The First Presbyterian Church of Miami, Fla., was the scene of a double ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Barbara Mae Wolfe and John Edward Vander Ven. Dr. Henry Dahlberg performed the rites at 6:30 p.m. Aug. 16. Palms, bouquets of white flowers and candelabra adorned the altar.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Drenkel Wolfe of Miami, and Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Vander Ven of 307 College Ave., Holland.

The bride wore a floor length gown of nylon tulle with a fitted bodice and short sleeves. The scoop neckline was trimmed with sequins and chantilly lace. The bouffant skirt was also enhanced with chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil fell from a pearl and sequin trimmed headband. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Stanley Bomba, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Elmer Veldheer was bridesmaid. Her niece, Marlene McAllister, was junior bridesmaid. They wore dresses of blue taffeta with scoop necklines and short sleeves. Matching headpieces complemented the ensembles. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of pink carnations and the other attendants carried white carnations.

Three Chix Players Hurt

ZEELAND (Special) — Three first stringers have been temporarily sidelined with injuries and Zeeland High football coach Jarold Groters hopes they will be ready to participate in a scrimmage Friday night against Kelloggsville at 7:30 p.m. at Zeeland Athletic Field.

Fullback Jack Nagelkirk has dislocated a shoulder while left halfback Cliff Ter Haar bruised his leg in a scrimmage last week and the injury has been responding slowly. Guard Bob Hendricks bruised a breast bone and will be out for a week.

Groters has about 30 boys out and has been pleased with the progress of the group. Following Saturdays full-scale scrimmage which was the first cause for Groters optimism, he sent the Chix through some line blocking and ball handling techniques Monday and was pleased with the results.

Zeelands fullback bucks and straight plays up the middle and off the tackles have been working the best. Groters said he was low in depth in the backfield and the players have to learn the assignments for more than one position.

The development of Jim Van Dam as a quarterback has also pleased the Zeeland coach. Van Dam has shown good knowledge of play calling, diagnosing situations and has thrown some fine passes.

PLEASE...

Give $1.00 Worth of Love

In the year ended last July your Ottawa County Humane Society Shelter admitted nearly 4,000 animals.

Some 850 of these were placed in good homes where they are repaying human kindness with love and devotion.

Hundreds of others, the lost and strayed, were gratefully redeemed by their owners.

The sick and the unwanted were mercifully put to sleep.

Our humane mission is made possible only by voluntary contributions: the Society receives no tax support. A small contribution from you will enable your Humane Society to continue this work of caring for the dumb, the helpless, the lost. Though these creatures themselves may never know the many hands that helped them, you will know your good works.

When the solicitor calls on you during the membership campaign which starts tomorrow, please give our appeal your serious consideration. Adult memberships in the society are only $1.00; children's, $0.50. If no solicitor calls at your home within the next few days, your contribution mailed to the shelter will be especially appreciated.
